🎯 Start Small, Aim Smart

Big goals feel more doable when you break them into smaller steps. Focus on progress over perfection, and don't forget to celebrate the wins along the way.

💙 Take Care of Yourself

Your wellbeing matters. Prioritizing rest, balance, and mental health helps everything else fall into place. Remember to make the most of your NB benefits when you need support.

📚 Keep Learning (Just a Little Each Day)

Growth doesn't have to be overwhelming. Even 15 minutes a day learning something new can build confidence and open doors over time.

🧠 Clear Your Space, Clear Your Mind

A small reset — organizing your workspace or takin mental pause — can reduce stress and help you fo on what matters most.

🤝 Stay Connected

Strong connections make a difference. Whether it's teammate, mentor, or manager, staying connected bring support, motivation, and fresh perspective.

⏱️ Be Consistent, Not Perfect

Consistent actions add up over time. Showing up regularly, even on busy days builds momentum and makes progress feel more sustainable.

A new year is a meaningful opportunity to pause, reset, and check in with yourself.

As you step into 2026, remember that caring for your mental health doesn't require big, overwhelming changes often the small, intentional moments that make the biggest difference. Taking time to breathe, set healthy boundaries, and show yourself kindness can help create a strong foundation for the year ahead.

A few simple tips to start the year strong:

- Set realistic expectations, progress is better than perfection

LIVING THE BFF CODE

ACCOUNTABILITY

Accountability about showing up with integrity, taking ownership of our actions, and following through, especially when it matters most. At Behavior Frontiers, accountability means being reliable for our clients, supportive of our teammates, and honest with ourselves as we grow and learn.

In practice, accountability is communicating clearly, meeting commitments, and taking responsibility for both our successes and our challenges. When we hold ourselves accountable, we build trust, strengthen our teams, and create consistency that helps everyone thrive.

This month, we’re celebrating the BFFs who lead by example, step up when it counts, and take pride in doing the right thing, even when it’s hard.

Your commitment, reliability, and dedication make a real impact every single day. 💙

Let’s give a big virtual round of applause to this month’s value champions:

Cameron Cantrell - LA Center - SBT

I was conducting an intake assessment in LAC1. The pa maladaptive behavior. She asked how we respond to tantrums and hitting. Cameron was in the playroom and presented a trial to his client. The client slapped the card away, and the mom I was with stared in disbelief. In a ca and neutral manner, Cameron redirected the client to pic the cards, represented the trial, and reinforced the client' correct response to the trial. His implementation of extinc and differential reinforcement was a perfect demonstratic on how to respond to maladaptive behavior. Cameron di even know he was being watched and he still did the righ thing. Excellent work, my dude!
